

May and September of 2023 saw the first in-person meet-ups of Tornjak lovers in North America. The first meeting saw nine people gather to get acquainted and share their experiences with their beautiful dogs.

Six Tornjaks attended that meeting.

The second meeting saw eleven people (four US states and two Canadian provinces) and eight gorgeous Tornjaks gathering to form

The Tornjak Club of North America.

Interested in Joining? Contact :

Alice Guthrie at:
newhope_crossfire@hotmail.com

or

Marlo Vandiver at:
marlov890@gmail.com

or see:

<http://tornjakclub.com/>

Email: tcna@tornjakclub.com

Snapshot of breed history

The Tornjak breed has existed for hundreds of years in its countries of origin - modern day Croatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina as a livestock guardian dog.

Due to changing lifestyles and the effects of the world war, the breed nearly disappeared, but has been recreated since 1972 using the few dogs that remained.

Full recognition by FCI was attained in 2017.

*large dogs, 60 - 120 pounds and up to 28 inches in height.

*profuse double coat, requiring significant grooming

*friendly, intelligent, dignified

*calm and affectionate to known people, wary of strangers

*not just a fluffy 'teddy bear' dog, these strong courageous dogs are capable of defending against large predators

Introducing the Tornjak

Kisa - first show dog in North America, also learning to guard sheep.

Puppies are adorable fluffballs.

Meecca enjoys life as a family companion.

Tornjaks

Versatile livestock guardian dogs that can share your life, guard home and property, or look beautiful in a show ring ... or maybe even all of the above!

Dagon and Scylla, a beautiful pair.

Falkor is "helping" to feed the goats

Lipa & Fend tend horses on a small farm

Pandora takes care of goats and chickens

